Project Title: Jackson Pollock Website

This will be a multi-page website with straightforward navigation on the top, allowing users to explore distinct aspects of Jackson Pollock's life, work, and legacy. The information will be divided across multiple pages, with each page focusing on a unique aspect of his journey and impact on the art world. I think there is an enough content available to build out these pages. One idea I have is that a page will be dedicated as a gallery to showcase Pollock's artwork, providing a visual journey of his career through his artwork.
